Utah Arizona state line

Note:-

The arrows ⟶ show the routes followed by the clans that inhabit the Moqui villages at the present time.

Each clan claims all the land on both sides of route.

As the routes converge the claims overlap each other;

Some of the first Mesa people came from Jacob's Wells; some from Clear Creek Canon below Winslow; some from Grand Canon; Some from ruins to the north; some from Chinlee.

The other villages are peopled in much the same way.

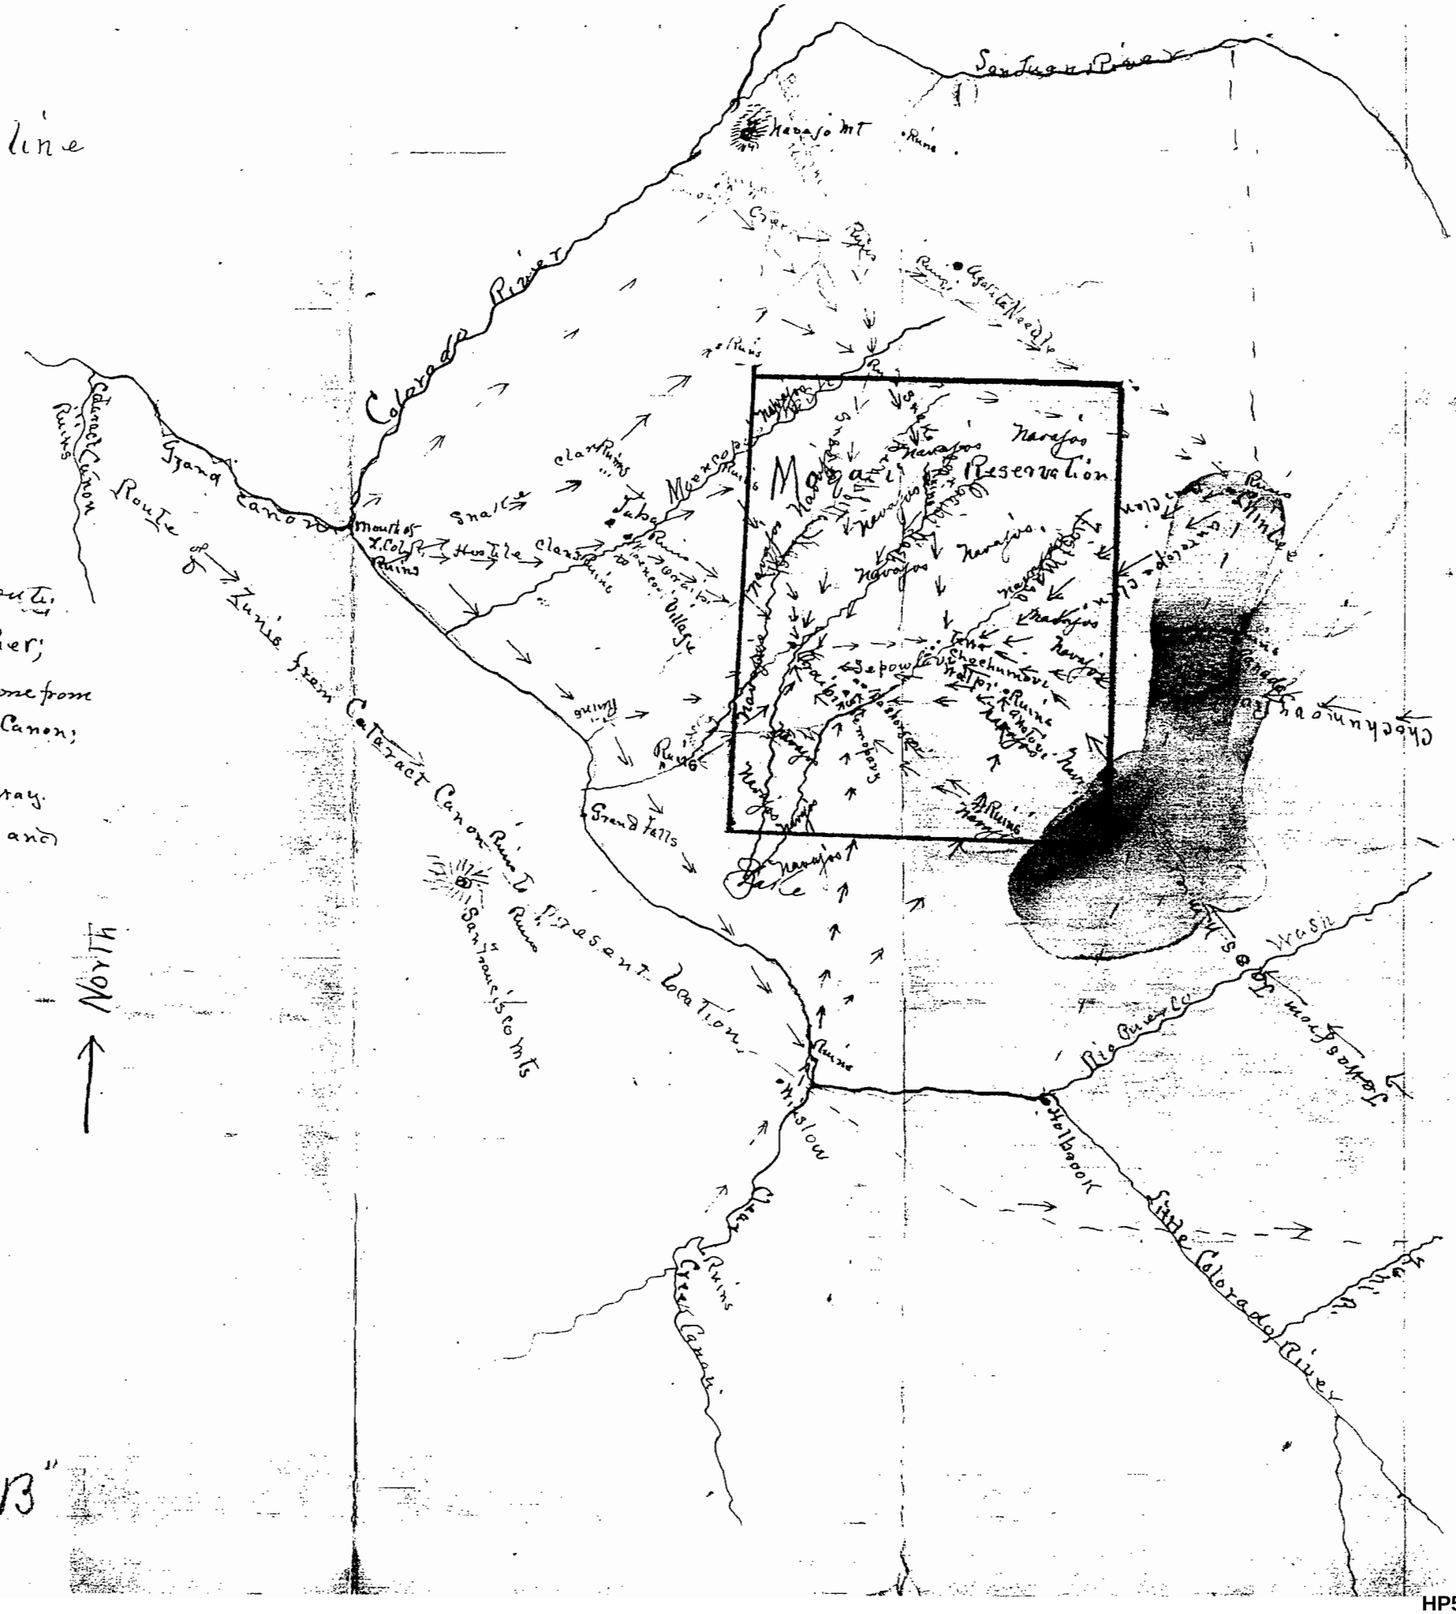
Each clan claims to have been first on the scene and so claims prior rights to the country.

Matthew M. Murphy
Special allotting agent.
Moqui Reservation, Arizona

Territory claimed by the older moquis:—

mouth of Little Colorado to Holbrook;
Holbrook to Chinlee;
Chinlee to San Juan River;
San Juan River to Colorado River;
Colorado R to mouth of Little Colorado.

The younger Moquis claim that the present Moqui reservation was given them in lieu of the territory described above.



North

Map "B"

HP5675

COPY
from
THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES
Record Group No. 75
CENTRAL FILES, 1907-1939
BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

HP5676