Az Water Department Resources,

I think these petitioners are hipocrites. They want unlimited drilling and use of water but dont want anyone else to use water.

My family owns land that is not irrigated. How could you sell this land if you told the buyer they could not irrigate more than 3 acres. With no water rights your land is worthless.

Are these farmers going to financially reimburse towns that have to drill town wells deeper? or people who live in country?

Most of these petitioners are from somewhere else. They dont live here and dont give a damn about anything but making money selling nuts to China and India.

How much taxpayer funded farm subsidies Have these petitioners gotten over the years?

These petitioners want to run everybody out so they can use all the water. They will just use even more water.

I know people who have not farmed their land for 5 years. You cannot take their water rights.
